

Alexandria Gazette

FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 18.

FOX HUNTING.—Our criticism of Colonel Waring's article in Scribner's Monthly seems to have excited the fox hunters of the South, and especially Virginia. We have had various messages and accounts of hunts going beyond what we asserted to be skill and horsemanship of our hunters and the quality and superiority of their hounds. We give an account of some hunting here in Campbell county. Mr. John F. Perrow, near Campbell court-house, has ten hounds, and has, up to this time, caught thirty odd foxes. Christmas he, with three other hunters, J. M. B. Stephens, J. C. Pearman and George V. Harlow, made a hunt with these hounds and caught three foxes in one day. Two were gray foxes, and one a large red; all were caught on the ground in a fair chase. The red fox made a square run of three hours. The same dogs caught one each day for the two succeeding days, making five foxes in three days; fresh wild foxes, in the last order. This is real hunting—the ground, fences, ditches, &c., are taken in their natural condition—the foxes are on their native haunts—no stopping up; no put up foxes for invited guests and fancy hunters. We are now satisfied, notwithstanding Colonel Waring's opinion, that there are in Virginia ten well-broke and well bred hounds and hunters for every one in England. —Lynch. News.
